4. Quality Indicator Framework(QIF)

Criterion 1 - Curricular Aspects

1.1 Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 The Institution ensures effective curriculum planning and delivery through a well-planned and documented process including Academic calendar and conduct of continuous internal Assessment

Response:

At the beginning of each semester, an Orientation programme is organized for the newly admitted students to inform them about the mechanism involved in curriculum delivery and implementation. During this programme; the Principal, Vice-principal and coordinators give information about various programmes, courses, committees and guidelines to be followed by the students. For effective planning and execution, each programme coordinator follows an academic calendar. The sheets are prepared to depict the allotment of courses and workload based on the credits of each course as per directives received from the University of Mumbai. The Principal monitors its effective implementation through formal meetings with Programme Coordinators and, if necessary, conducts informal discussions with faculty.

Following timetables are displayed on the notice board and uploaded on the website-

1. Regular Timetable
2. Remedial and Intensive coaching
3. Bridge courses

All the teachers prepare a Semester teaching plan, and a Week-wise teaching plan and ensure effective implementation of them. The same is shared with students at the beginning of the week. The Syllabus completion status is maintained on a monthly basis.

For effective curriculum delivery, the faculty uses flow charts, maps, models and specimens along with chalk and board. They also use methods like seminar, group discussion, debate, quiz, case study etc. Study materials, notes and question banks are provided in the class. Group projects are assigned to inculcate team spirit, sharing and develop presentation skills. Educational field visits, Guest lectures, Expert lectures and Guidance lectures are organized to support the Classroom teaching-learning process. Internet, Computer, LCD projectors and other Audio-visual aids are utilized regularly. Our well-equipped laboratories are u sed to the optimum level by the students for practical purposes. The students maintain the practical journals, and the results are certified by the faculty and the programme coordinators. A faculty library is maintained to facilitate faculty members and students to get access to the latest books available in their concerned subjects and topics. The college encourages faculties to participate in Orientation and Refresher courses to update their knowledge of the subject. The faculty members are encouraged to attend the revised syllabus implementation workshops. The college takes initiative and encourages staff members to attend workshops organized by the University for implementing the CBCS method of imparting curriculum. The teachers, who are newly appointed, are given an orientation regarding various teaching methodologies. Since Academic Year 2020-21 and 2021-22 (partially) was affected by COVID-19 pandemic, as per the University of Mumbai directives, all the programmes started 'Online Teaching-Learning' process. Teachers adopted various online teaching pedagogies like PPT presentations, videos (YouTube), and online interactive sessions. Selected contents of the syllabus were also covered through online Group Discussions, Projects, Short Films and Assignments, use of charts, graphs and Case studies for effective curriculum delivery. To raise the emotional quotient of students by helping them to deal with stress, anxiety etc. Positive Psychology lectures are conducted once in a week in every class by our teachers. ## 2.5 Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 Mechanism of internal/ external assessment is transparent and the grievance redressal system is time- bound and efficient

Response:

Since the college is affiliated to the University of Mumbai, it follows the guidelines set by the university for the conduct of examinations. A streamlined and transparent mechanism for continuous monitoring and evaluation is developed where every student is aware of the process of evaluation. The evaluation system consists of two components: continuous internal evaluation and end semester examination. PHCASC has a dedicated Examination Cell that coordinates and conducts both the university examinations and internal examinations. The Examination Cell is divided into : Examination section, Records Section and Administration Section. Examination In-charge is the Head of the Examination Cell. The Chief Conductor, Joint Chief Conductors, Senior Supervisors, Junior Supervisors, and Unfair-means Committee are in charge of ensuring the smooth conduct of university examinations. Examination time tables are prepared by the Examination Cell as per dates declared by the university and the same is communicated to the teachers and students well in advance via email, official student groups, college website and is also displayed on Exam Cell notice board. The college has developed an online student portal system where each student can view his/her own result. The Internal Assessment is conducted through in sem examinations as per university guidelines. In addition to this, we also conduct class tests, tutorials, assignments, projects and presentations to make assessment more transparent. During the pandemic, the college has adopted multiple choice question paper patterns as per the directives from the University of Mumbai. The assessment of answer sheets is auto generated through Google forms.

Grievances related to examination and evaluation.

The student related examination grievances such as corrections in grade card, changes in name or spelling, updating of marks after revaluation and pending results of lower semesters, etc. are promptly handled and addressed on time and forwarded to the university with regular follow up. Unfair Means Committee is constituted to resolve complaints from the student or from the examination administration regarding malpractice or any unsavory incident during the examination. The objectives are to ensure fairness during both Internal and External Examinations. The responsibilities of Unfair Means Committee include:

- To report to the Joint Chief Conductor of any malpractice or misconduct discovered during the examination
- To complete all the necessary formalities for lodging a complaint
- To educate all junior supervisors about the unfair means process
- To promote and maintain discipline in the college by proactively assisting the Programme Coordinators and the Principal.

The Examination cell also coordinates with all stakeholders and Programmes to conduct Practical-Viva Examinations at UG and PG levels. The college provides the option for revaluation of answer sheets, in case student raise any queries regarding the assessment and results as per guidelines from University of Mumbai. Unfair Means Procedure at PHCASC:

1. The smooth conduct of examination is ensured by the Flying Squad and Unfair Means committee
2. In case of any malpractice, the institution has established policies and guidelines to deal with the same in line with the guidelines provided by the University of Mumbai.
3. Unfair Means forms are to be submitted in the Exam Cell as evidence of any malpractice.
4. Unfair Means Committee sets a hearing panel for the alleged student in the presence of the invigilator who reported the malpractice.
5. Hearing gives the student an opportunity to present his/her defence and the committee will decide upon the quantum of punishment.

2.6 Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 Programme Outcomes (POs) and Course Outcomes (COs) for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and attainment of POs and COs are evaluated

Response:

The college adopts course outcome based education. Course Outcomes are stated and explained to the students so that they will be able relate to the concepts after completing a course successfully. COs have been thoughtfully defined for all courses provided across various programmes. Course Outcomes can be defined based on the number of units or modules of a course. There may be three to six course outcomes. These course outcomes are usually defined by the affiliating university. COs are often developed by the respective course instructor with the help of subject experts and uploaded to the college website at the beginning of the semester. The Programme Outcomes (POs) are the skills, ability and knowledge required for professional success. Programme Outcomes (POs) are developed with the students' cognitive, affective, and psychomotor domains in mind. The Programme Outcomes (POs) are distributed to all stakeholders and are displayed on the college website, notice boards, laboratories, lecture halls, Google classrooms and the official student groups. The Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes are discussed and explained during the orientation programme with students. The POs and COs are shared with students in official groups by the respective program coordinators. POs and COs are also shared in Google classroom by the respective subject teachers.

Attainment of Course Outcomes
Attainment of Course Outcome is directly calculated through internal and external assessments. The knowledge and skills are assessed internally based on the the performance in assignments, experiments, lab assignments, projects, class tests and assessment tests. However, the internal assessment process is not the same for all programmes. Both direct and indirect methods are used to calculate overall CO Attainment. Following steps are used to evaluate the levels of CO-PO attainment: 1. Define/Obtain Programme Outcomes 2. Define/Obtain Course Outcomes 3. Mapping of Course Outcomes with Programme Outcomes. 4. CO measurement through assessment. 5. Obtain CO attainment table through direct and indirect assessment methods. 6. Obtain PO attainment table through direct and indirect assessment methods. CO Attainment

Internal Attainment is the average of attainments obtained using various internal assessment tools. Direct attainment is calculated with the help of internal and external attainment levels using the formula: Total Direct Attainment = 20% internal attainment + 80% university attainment. Indirect Attainment is calculated using the CES.

- Overall CO attainment consists of 20% of indirect assessment and 80% of direct assessment.

PO*Attainment

The PO assessment is done at the end of each programme based on the CO attainment of all curriculum components. The attainment level can be determined either by a particular programme or, more commonly, by the institution. By analyzing the students' knowledge, the institution or the programme can make the best possible choice of the PO attainment. Overall PO Attainment is determined by taking sum of 80% of PO attainment by direct method and 20% of PO attainment by indirect method. • Overall indirect method is the 100% attainment through GES. • Overall PO attainment is the sum of 80% of direct attainment and 20% of indirect attainment.

6.5 Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes. It reviews teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals and records the incremental improvement in various activities

Response:

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing strategies and processes for quality management and enhancement of our institution. The major areas of focus have been teaching learning process, Course outcome based education and a structured feedback system to identify areas for improvement. College Development Cell (CDC) and IQAC, periodically reviews and continuously upgrades the quality of teaching-learning process by timely planning and monitoring of Faculty Handbook and academic audits for quality assurance. Digital Teaching -Learning Initiatives Developing e-learning methods has always been one of the priorities in Teaching-Learning process of our college. IQAC has taken many such steps to strengthen digital learning using e-resource and successful ly initiated the methodology of blended learning. MES E-mail ID, library ID and other online platforms were provided to students during the time of admission. The faculty members upload e-contents, e-notes, presentations, question banks and share videos in the same, which can be browsed/ accessed by the students using their library login id and password. ICT-enabled classrooms assisted e-teaching and learning methodology. We have established ICT-enabled classrooms, Conclaves and A/V room to institutionalize direct online access on the topics discussed with the students. Faculty-Wise National Conferences To institutionalize and expand the research activities, the IQAC initiated Faculty-wise National Conferences to be organized from 2019-20 in place of yearly held conference. One-Day National Conferences were organized by various programmes/departments to develop research aptitude and encourage research paper publication among faculty members and students. Accordingly, Arts, Commerce and Science has organized National Level Conferences on topics such as Emerging Trends in Computer Science and Information Technology, Recent Trends in Interdisciplinary Research in Basic Sciences, Apocalypse: A Swoop into Multifaceted Perceptions, National Conference on Embracing change and Transformation in Decision Making, etc. Add-On or Certificate Courses IQAC has initiated the idea of creating and developing add on/certificate courses in-house or collaborating with external agencies as well, after realising the need to develop better skill sets and equip the students for post pandemic times. The courses include collaboration with TISS, Tech Fry Day, Satyam Institute of Tax Accountant, Fundamentals of IT, Language Acquisition for Professional Development etc. Trivariate Mentoring A well-designed mentoring programme helps students of all streams to develop confidence, trusting relationships and scope for collaboration in future endeavours. As the title implies, this mentoring initiative has three phases; 1. Mentor Mentee Mode (MMM) 2. Mentoring through Peer Groups (MPG) 3. Vertical Mentoring (VM) Structured Feedback 360 Degree feedback is so designed on Moodle or Google forms that the feedback of all the stakeholders- i.e. Students, teachers, alumni and employers are taken into consideration. The feedback collected is analysed and report is presented to the IQAC team chaired by the Principal. Actions are taken as per suggestions received and an ATR is prepared accordingly. IQAC Quality Initiatives NIRF Participation, ISO Certification, Annual Quality Assurance Reports, Faculty-wise Staff Development Programmes and Academic and Exam Cell

Audits are a few quality initiatives successfully undertaken and implemented by the IQAC of our institution. Every year, our college participates in NIRF, which provided an overall information on our yearly summary to revise or implement steps for improvement. Orientation programmes are organised for staff and students to focus on institutional policies, mission, vision, code of conduct and core values of the institution.

Criterion 7 - Institutional Values and Best Practices

7.1 Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity and Institutional initiatives to celebrate / organize national and international commemorative days, events and festivals during the last five years

Response:

Pillai HOC College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Rasayani has taken various measures to inculcate sensitivity in the students and faculty members toward gender equity. In PHCASC, various initiatives like the Women Development Cell (WDC) in association with the Soroptimist Welfare Association (SWA), National Service Scheme (NSS) Unit, Youth Red Cross and the Institutional Social Responsibility Cell (ISR) organize activities to create awareness about the challenges faced by the contemporary society. Furthermore, the Institute promotes gender equity in admissions, recruitment, administrative functionality and academic activities. Gender equity is the process of allocating resources, programmes and opportunities fairly to all. This requires ensuring that everyone has access to a full range of opportunities to achieve the social, psychological and physical benefits that come from participating and leading in sports and physical activities. It does not necessarily mean making the same programmes and facilities available to both males and females. Gender equity requires that girls and women should be provided with a full range of activities and programme choices that meet their needs, interests and experiences. Therefore, some activities may be the same as those offered to boys and men, some may be altered, and some may be altogether different. Measures Taken in the Past Five Years:

- 1.The institute has a policy of appreciating faculty members without gender bias. All faculty members are nominated, based on their ability, as programme coordinators and conveners of various committees and clubs.
- 2.Students are nominated as members of various committees at department and institute levels purely based on their skills without any gender bias.
- 3.While deciding to conduct seminars/webinars and other events, increasing awareness toward gender equity among students is always the motto. All are encouraged to participate in Rangoli competitions, Yoga and Zumba sessions.
- 4.The Institute celebrates Women's day every year and encourages all genders to participate in the events conducted.

7.2 Best Practices

7.2.1 Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

Response:

Best Practice 1 Title: Positive Psychology Objectives:

- To create awareness about enhancing the Emotional Quotient (EQ) of both students and faculty members.
- To offer a starting point for self-inquiry and self-efficacy.
- To help students understand the relevance of positive thinking in their life through a series of modules and activities.
- To motivate the students to pursue personal meaning and fulfillment in their lives.

Context

Students, today, are overwhelmed with stress and anxiety due to academic, peer and various pressures experienced in day-to-day life. Panic attacks, anger management issues, suicides, various addictions are on the rise. In such a scenario, a gentle yet firm intervention by the educational institution, the student is part of, becomes necessary. Our institution introduced Positive Psychology Sessions in the academic year 2018-19 when Mental Health Awareness in educational institutions was yet gaining ground in India. The Positive Psychology sessions in our institution began with the motive of helping students to develop the Emotional Quotient (EQ) by cultivating positive thought patterns, gaining confidence, building resilience, improving one's behaviour, developing communication skills and an optimistic approach toward life. Practice: Content for the modules are carefully compiled and created by a specific team within the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) which facilitates activity-based learning. The programme is conducted for all the undergraduate students at the institution. The objectives of the programme are achieved through lectures, class discussions, mini projects and indoor activities. Post session assignments such as reading, review, quizzes are incorporated in the curriculum.

Positive Psychology has successfully evolved as one of the most popular certificate programmes offered by the institution. Another vital evidence for the success of the Positive Psychology course and its institutionalization is the positive feedback from students. Evidence of Success After introducing Positive Psychology sessions, both students and faculty members felt a significant increase in energy, boost in morale and enhancement in performance. Since the pedagogy was majorly activity oriented in the second phase of Positive Psychology, it encouraged maximum student participation as they felt highly involved in the entire process. Our students and alumni have shared testimonials on how positive psychology lectures have positively impacted their lives and even during challenging pandemic times. Problems Encountered: Initially, many students seemed sceptical about the need for Positive Psychology sessions. An introductory session was planned to create awareness regarding the importance and benefits of the sessions. While delivering the modules in the classrooms, the faculty members found it challenging and sometimes difficult to generate interest among the students.

To overcome this obstacle, the content development team added many activities relevant to the corresponding topics in the modules.

Resources Required: Teaching materials, Trained and qualified faculty, Infrastructure Best Practice 2

Title: Trivariate Mentoring To ensure holistic development of every student in our campus, we initi ated Trivariate Mentoring programme that captures the true essence of our devotion toward the development of every student's intellectual capability and emotional intelligence. The programme is executed in three different phases: Mentor-Mentee Mode (MMM), Mentoring through Peer Groups (MPG) and Vertical Mentoring (VM). Objectives:

- To help the students identify career paths and support their personal growth.
- To provide students with an opportunity to learn and practice professional networking skills.
- To inculcate a vision in students which will help them to identify and pursue opportunities for employment related to their academic qualifications and competencies.

Context:

The Trivariate Mentoring Programme helps the students to develop and improve their reasoning and communication skills, self-motivation, self-discipline, leadership skills, organizational, self-management skills and goal-setting. The programme also helps students to learn various skills through their teachers, classmates and senior students. Our structure of mentoring is beneficial to both the mentors and the mentees. Practice :

1. Mentor Mentee Mode(MMM)

In Mentor Mentee Mode, every student/mentee is assigned a mentor who meets with them in person once in a month, starting from their first year. In this interaction, mentors try to analyze the progress of their students/mentees and keep track of the mentee's academic records, attendance and behavioural aspects.

The mentor encourages the personal and academic development of the mentee through imparting knowledge and sharing experiences and expertise. This session is recorded by the mentor in order to assess the progress of mentees.2. Vertical Mentoring (VM)

Vertical Mentoring enables senior students to engage with junior students through lectures on diverse topics. This helps both senior and junior students to learn from each other. Advanced learners from the senior batches are identified by the faculty members as mentors for this programme and then they are motivated to engage their juniors in an informative and interactive session. In this process, the senior students improve their presentation and communication skills while the juniors get a chance to learn and interact with the senior students.

3. Mentoring through Peer Groups

(MPG)

In MPG the mentor and mentees are students from the same class. This gives an opportunity to advanced learners to improve their skills and share their knowledge with their peers. This also encourages average students to work hard and improve their performance. The students may take turns as 'mentor' and 'mentee', but overall, peer mentoring is about creating a formal support system. The Programme Coordinators divide the class into batches and select a student mentor from each batch. Respective subject teachers and class coordinators supervise and keep track of these sessions. This develops an environment of co-learning. Evidence of Success Faculty advisors identified students with capabilities and willingness to take up mentorship and assign them topics to be conducted. Faculty members made sure that the students were encouraged to fight their fears and take up the role of being a mentor to juniors. Junior students and student mentors were encouraged to employ presentation slides and audio-visual aids to make every session engaging and interactive. Problems Encountered and Res Sources Required Active participation of each student is required for a satisfactory completion of the session. Some students show some indifference to participate in the mentoring sessions since it is not part of the curriculum. Mentoring Booklet, trained and qualified faculty members ensure the effectiveness of the practice.
